JEWISH YOUNG MEN ON RESPONSIBILITY

Gus Fred read a paper dealing with the fourth chapter of Graetz's History of the Jews, covering the first period of the settlement of the Jews in Palestine at the meeting of the Young Men's Hebrew association yesterday afternoon. The spirit and philosophy of the history of the particular period were brought out. Chairman I. Adelman, after an incresting discussion of current issues and events pertaining to the Jews, introduced Prof. B. B. Cobb, superintendent of the public schools of this city, whose address was the principal feaure of the program.

Proffessor Cobb spoke in high terms of the association, its work and its aims, stating that "we are living in an of young men and stressing the that we are now living in a age of young men and streams afact that we are now living in a faster age than ever before, in an age in which the young man is called upon earlier in youth to assume the duties to society which the benefits of the accumulated wisdom of all ages has cast upon him." The responsibilities of the Jewish young man of today he summed up as follows:

"The responsibility to self, not the desire of self aggrandizement, but the necessity of developing the moral and intellectual character—and of rising above discouraging environments. He urged them in doing this not to de-

The instrument of the world's greatest artists

It is natural that in the musical world there should be singers and instrumentalists whose transcendent art places them in the forefront of their profession. These artists have attained their commanding positions by reason of their superb artistry, and it is no mere coincidence that they have chosen the Victrola as the instrument to carry their sublime art into the home with the utmost fidelity.

The Victrola is the greatest of all musical instru-ments not only because it brings you the exact renditions of the world's famous artists, but because it has through sheer merit and through world-wide recognition by millions of music-lovers earned this high honor the artists have conferred upon it.

Any Victor dealer will gladly show you the complete line of Victors and Victrolas—$10 to $400—and play the music you know and like best, which is the only way for you to personally, judge its capabilities of satisfying your musical longings.

Do you know what the one thing than can be worse than the European war? John Davis, big brother to the birds, has found out what it is. Mr. a Davy told a large audience at the would all starve if vegetation. We would all starve if vegetation ceased for a year. But vegtation depends upon the birds, who, protect it from destruction by insects.

"Human life, therefore, depends upon the birds. All insectivorous birds in this country are decreasing 10 per cent each year. Unless we start at once to increase their numbers, to protect them and kill their enemies, within a decade will occur the disaster to humanity which I have spoken of a catastrophic horror more awful than the European war."

If the farmers once realize what powerful friends they have in the wild birds they will become the best bird protectors on earth. They will band together and see to it that no one is allowed to cut down their incomes by destroying the most valuable allies in their fight against their enemies—the weeds, the harmful incest and the harmful rodents.

The department of agriculture at Washington tells us that the annual loss to the farmers of the country from the attacks of insects and rodent pests alone is about a billion dollars. The loss occasioned by the enormous amount of labor required to battle with threaten the crops is also very great.

Victrola The instrument of the world's greatest artists

It is natural that in the musical world there should be singers and instrumentalists whose transcendent art places them in the forefront of their profession. These artists have attained their commanding positions by reason of their superb artistry, and it is no mere coincidence that they have chosen the Victrola as the instrument to carry their sublime art into the home with the utmost fidelity.

The Victrola is the greatest of all musical instruments not only because it brings you the exact renditions of the world's famous artists, but because it has through sheer merit and through world-wide recognition by millions of music-lovers earned this high honor the artists have conferred upon it.

Any Victor dealer will gladly show you the complete line of Victors and Victrolas—$10 to $400—and play the music you know and like best, which is the only way for you to personally judge its capabilities of satisfying your musical longings.

THE TRAIL OF BLOOD.

Three mystery murders of which women were the victims occurring in Dallas within less than three years call for more than ordinary vigilance in the effort to unravel the latest mystery connected with the murder of the trained nurse, Miss Cramer. This is not a matter purely of local concern. The entire state of Texas is interested.

About thirty years ago a series of murders in Austin, similar to those in London accredited to Jack the Ripper, startled the country. The best detectives in the United States were employed, and while they were at work, other myterious murders were committed week after week, under their noses, and with the moon shining brightly. Austin was terrorized, and men, women and children became walking and quaking arsenals. Dallas should take warning in time and adopt heroic measures to run the cunning murderer to his lair. There is always a trail if it can be found.

Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his, blood be shed.

This is going to be a week of great events, which will include a charter convulsion at Dallas, and a senatorial emulsion at Hillsboro.

The welcome rainfall that has lately blessed Texas from end to end is a reminder that Nature is like a woman, whenever she grows violently happy she begins to weep.

Keep your eye closely on the Sunday Morning News and you will soon see something that will stir your pulses-particularly if you are a woman.

A QUARTER OF A MILLION LOCATION.

Trade territory is correctly measured on a population basis. Cactus and sagebrush have their uses, but they are never known to help swell the sale of sugar or calico.

Under the existing scheme of freight rates in Texas, the exclusive trade territory which belongs, as a matter of natural law, to any city, may be mapped within a circle with a diameter of seventy-

Take the map of Texas and draw a circle around Waco in accordance with the above scale, and it will be found to contain nearly if not quite onefourth of the population of the entire state. Compute its products, and the proportion will be found to be still greater.

The law of nature says that the trade of Waco should be equal to that of Indianapolis, Indiana, or any other Eastern or Northern city with a population in the neighborhood of 250,000. The bearing of this story, as Captain Cuttle would say, is in the application on't.

A Practically Perfect Preparation.

VEARS of experience have enabled Mr. Fletcher to make Castoria a practically perfect preparation. These years of labor: the amount of money required to introduce its merits to the public: the investment in its manufacture, including the most modern machinery, mean a vast amount of invested capital. It follows that the greatest care is exercised in the selection of each ingredient, and the greatest attention is paid to every detail of its preparation. The result is the practically perfect preparation in the finished product; Fletcher's Castoria.

Herein lies the guarantee of the absolute safety in the use of Fletcher's Castoria for the baby, and the warning against irresponsible makers of imitations and counterfeits. The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher that is printed in black on the wrapper and red on the bottle is the mother's safeguard.

Children Cry For

Extracts from Letters by Grateful Parents to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Mrs. John W. Derrick, of Lexington, S. C., says: "My children cry for Castoria, I could not do without it."

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gaines, of Ripley, Tenn., say: "We enclose our baby's picture hoping it will induce some poor tired mothers to give your Castoria a trial. We have used it since baby was two weeks old.

Mrs. J. G. Parman, of Nashville, Tenn., says: "The perfect health of my baby is due to your Castoria—the first and only medicine he has taken. He is never satisfied with one dose, he always cries for more."

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Johnson, of Stevens Point, Wis., say: "When our baby was two weeks old he cried so much we did everything for him, then got some Castoria and he is now strong and fat. We would not be without it, and are very thankful to you."

THE TRAIL OF BLOOD.

Three mystery murders of which women were the victims occurring in Dallas within less than three years call for more than ordinary vigilance in the effort to unravel the latest mystery connected with the murder of the trained nurse, Miss Cramer. This is not a matter purely of local concern. The entire state of Texas is interested.

About thirty years ago a series of murders in Austin, similar to those in London accredited to Jack the Ripper, startled the country. The best detectives in the United States were employed, and while they were at work, other myterious murders were committed week after week, under their noses, and with the moon shining brightly. Austin was terrorized, and men, women and children became walking and quaking arsenals. Dallas should take warning in time and adopt heroic measures to run the cunning murderer to his lair. There is always a trail if it can be found.

A Practically Perfect Preparation.

VEARS of experience have enabled Mr. Fletcher to make Castoria a practically perfect preparation. These years of labor: the amount of money required to introduce its merits to the public: the investment in its manufacture, including the most modern machinery, mean a vast amount of invested capital. It follows that the greatest care is exercised in the selection of each ingredient, and the greatest attention is paid to every detail of its preparation. The result is the practically perfect preparation in the finished product; Fletcher's Castoria.

Herein lies the guarantee of the absolute safety in the use of Fletcher's Castoria for the baby, and the warning against irresponsible makers of imitations and counterfeits. The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher that is printed in black on the wrapper and red on the bottle is the mother's safeguard.

When Jesus the Christ asked Simon, "But whom say ye that I am?" the reply came, "Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God." "That is," writes Mrs. Eddy on page 137 of Science and Health, "the Messiah is what thou hast declared—Christ, the spirit of God, of Truth, Life and Love, which heals mentally."

The appeal of Truth has no response from the so-called material senses, but it finds response in the spiritual sense through which the divine Principle, Love, makes itself known to man.

MORE REVEALED TODAY.

Truth stands revealed today as never before. Truth has always been, as it will ever be, but men have not known it. They have followed and trusted the distress of the restless world. Truth understood demands a denial of all unlike Truth, in order that mankind be freed from the consequences of erroneous beliefs. What happens when the truth is grasped that disease is unreal hecause not God-created? That instant so far as any particular human being is concerned, the spiritual law of God is allowed to operate and healing results. It is Truth that heals.

Truth that heals.

Truth that displaces erroneous. It is Truth that displaces erroneous beliefs by its harmonious presence. The result will always be the same whatever the error may be. "Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect." The words of Jesus are a command to men to listen to the appeal of Truth, that Truth is All-in-all, and that the perfection of a man, God's spiritual idea, becomes evident as mankind discerns spiritual man's real relationship to Truth.

when hair is falling and the dandruff germ is killing the hair roots. Delay Confirmation services for an unusually large class were held yesterday morning at the St. Paul's Episcopal church with Bishop Kinsolving of Austin, bishop of this diocese, officiating. An interesting sermon was delivered by the bishop and the service was well attended.

Bishop Kinsolving also conducted the services at the St. Paul's church last night, at which time a special musical program was rendered by the choir.

nnings, none of which developed his scores.

Not nearly so fortunate was Naylor, who did mound duty for the single men. Nine times did married men beat the air in wild attempts to connect, but oh, the many, many times it was otherwise. Sixteen various and sundry bingles were annexed by the rampaging benedicts, four of which were two-baggers. For Naylor, it must be stated that his fielders let numerous drives go for hits that might have been out had the regulars been in their places. The Belton lad looked good and kept his head, even when the ball was being slammed to every corner of the lot.

It was not until Causey replaced Donalds in the sixth that the single men scored. Grubb placing a home run over the John Ruskin cigar sign, the ball going clear across Webster street. That was all for them until their ninth inning batting rally. Cliff Hill singled past second and Zinn doubled to deep right field fence. Smith singled to center scoring both of them, but just then the rally ceased.

scoring both of them, but just then the rally ceased.

The married men commenced their counting in the third. Bittle bunted safely and Conwell placed one where doubled to right scoring Bittle. And then some regular 'Ty Cobb' stuff was pulled. Tanner's grounder toward Wohleben took a bad hop and Fred could not get it and, of course, Conwell slipped in. Almost as soon as he reached first, Buddle was off like a streak for second, which he reached before the Bachelors realized what was going on. And while they were waking up to Tanner's play, a shout from the other direction aroused them, and there was Jesse James beating it for home. He made it by inches, Again in the fourth, the married men piled up a trio of tallies. Closman was safe on a slow one to Malmquist, but was forced at second by Donalds. Bittle lined one to Grubb which was too hot to handle and Naylor hit Clemens on the wrist, filling the bases. Conwell sent a sizzler to right, Donairs and Eirtle racing in and Clemens fellowed them on Janes' Texas leaguer back of Malmquist.

Singles by Tanaer and Clos am with Sage's two-bagger in between them accounted for the married men's last run, made in the seventh inning. But they almost made another in the eighth when James was caught at the plate, crying to steal home a second time.

The single men have protested the game on the ground that Sage, one of their number, played first for their opponents. Jacobs, who was to have played, had been released, and Big George was drafted. The single men did not object at the time, thinking they could count on George trying to throw the game to them. Now they claim that George "double-crossed" them, for he played first like a veteran, even doing some fancy juggling with the ball and was largely responsible for one of the benedicts' scores. Zinn's work on short was surprising, only one error being chalked up against him.

What is apt to hurt the Navigators the early part of the season, however, happened in the ninth inning, when Toland broke a bone in his right hand. He will probably be out of the game for a month at least, which will leave Reilly to do most of the receiving unless the Big Skipper can find another catcher that looks good to him.

Most lines of business reported that natters were quite active last Sa and that the trade indications were better. It is supposed that the copious and general rains had much to do with this, also the fact that the spring weather has thawed out the people and cause them to feel ready to get busy.

Cheap Gasolinel

Morton de Waltoff, the young son of Dr. Dayve de Waltoff of 451 Fortyseventh street, Brooklyn, announces that he has discovered a new way of making gasoline at a cost of only half a cent a gallon. De Waltoff said he had made the discovery accidentally when experimenting to produce carbolic acid at a price below that to which the European war had driven the market figures for the acid. The gasoline was a by-product of this successful experiment, he said, and, besides it, he had obtained three other by-products of great value. He would not name these.

Cheap Gasoline!

Morton de Waltoff, the young son of Dr. Dayve de Waltoff of 451 Forty-seventh street, Brooklyn, announces that he has discovered a new way of making gasoline at a cost of only half a cent a gallon. De Waltoff said he had made the discovery accidentally when experimenting to produce carbolic acid at a price below that to which the European war had driven the market figures for the acid. The gasoline was a by-product of this successful experiment, he said, and, besides it, he had obtained three other by-products of great value. He would not name these.

An official decree providing for agriculture and also produce his four other products, including gasoline. The material from which all these products was obtained, he said, existed in inexhaustible quantities in this country, and was a way of the district. Women will have littles in this country, and was a way of the country, and was a way of the district. Women will have littles in this country, and was a way of the country and was a way of the country and was a way of the country and was a way of the country. The committee will take charge of the cultivation of unseeded land, and will be elected by the furnities.
